

CORRECTIONVILLE #03

August 25th (Friday) & 26th (Saturday), Vaals, The Netherlands.

↓ WORTH THE CLIMB

Climbing higher and higher. The air gets thinner. It's just you out there, with the elements. The higher you get, the more trivial life down there seems to be.

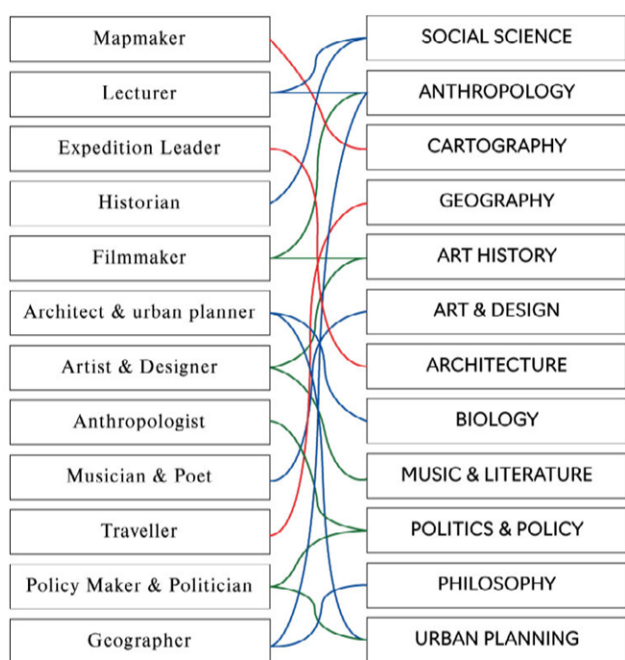

Borders often go along mountain ridges and summits. All over the world you could notice centuries old border stones which were used for indicating a border. But what does a border mean when you're up there?

CORRECTIONVILLE #03 is about crossing borders. Borders between disciplines, between regions, between biases. Come and find out halfway up the highest mountain of the Netherlands how maps can guide us in crossing borders of all kinds, August 25 & 26th, Vaals, The Netherlands!

↓ CALL FOR APPLICATIONS

Do you want to actively participate and perform, be a guide, show work-in-progress or do something we can't even think of yet? Let us know via the registration form!

Being a participant isn't limited to experts or (professional) artists. Local mapmakers, amateur-archeologists, designers, surveyors: all can sign up and share their knowledge and skills with visitors.

↓ PRACTICAL INFO

CORRECTIONVILLE #03 takes place in a playful, experimental and informal setting. While enjoying quality coffee and local treats, artists, neighbours, sociologists, architects and enthusiasts get to know each other's work and world. Local map makers, experts and artists can also apply as inhabitants of CORRECTIONVILLE and share their knowledge and skills with the visitors.

You can visit this third edition of CORRECTIONVILLE for free if you bring and hand in a map of choice, or for a €12 entrance fee (one-time fee for both days). The lingua franca will be Dutch, English and German.
